Parking Company of America Partners With Sylvia's Children

HOLMDEL, N. J. – Parking Company of America Airports (PCAA), a leader in airport parking solutions, has now given its customers one more reason to use its services. The company has teamed up with charitable organization Sylvia's Children to offer a new philanthropic promotion that both saves money for customers, while also allowing them to give back to the community.

With the use of a special coupon, customers who park their cars in any AviStar Parking, FastTrack or Sky/Park airport locations around the country can now get a 10-percent discount off their total parking fees, and in turn AviStar will donate 10-percent of their total fees directly to Sylvia's Children.

Founded by New Jersey resident Sylvia Allen, Sylvia's Children is a non-profit organization created with the mission of supporting children at the Mbirizi Advanced Primary and Day Care school in the village of Masaka, Uganda, Africa, by raising awareness and funds to educate, feed, clothe and shelter them. One-quarter of the children at the school have been orphaned due to the AIDS epidemic.

"I am a faithful AviStar customer so am thrilled to be partnering with them", stated Allen. "They have always done a great job of parking my car and getting me to my terminal in a timely fashion to catch my flights."

PCAA is the largest owner and operator of short-term and long-term, off-site airport parking services in the United States, with 30 airport parking centers and more than 40,000 parking spaces serving 20 major U.S. passenger airports, including six of the nation's ten largest. All three lots include valet, self-park, covered indoor and uncovered parking, and many facilities even offer car care services ranging from car washes to oil changes.
